Handy hints

Always A Winner is based on a chord-riff that repeats throughout the song and also features chord sliding. To slide a chord take a little more pressure than just holding it but don't press too hard! Think of it as 'pushing the sound up the strings' - and remember the slide must be in time, like any strummed chord. To learn more about chords, rhythm reading and how to get a good strumming sound, as well as techniques like sliding, check out Modern Guitar Chord Styles, Volume 1 & Volume 2 - they're packed with great tips and practice progressions and both include a playalong CD to help you.
