Having trouble getting power-chords together with Rock rhythms?

Gold On The Ceiling is a 'Rock shuffle' and the progression is all based on power-chords. This really is an Electric guitar track so if you're trying to learn it on an acoustic you are probably finding it a bit tiring for the chord hand. To learn about how bar-chord forms (this includes power-chords) and how to create concise Rock rhythms, check out Modern Guitar Chord Styles, Volume 2 It has heaps of insightful info and exercises and an excellent accompanying CD to help you learn quickly.
